

WILL JEANNE GO TO JAPAN?

President John F. Kennedy of the United States has caused a letter to be written to Debbie Ashworth, eighth grade sister of Wilmington's Skating Star, Jeanne, in which he raises a hope that the US Department of State may see fit to send Jeanne to Japan, for the Japanese National Skating Championships, starting on February 15th.

Debbie, who is 13 years old, wrote a letter to the President without the knowledge of her parents, Mr and Mrs Raymond Ashworth of Church Street.

Her parents are the center of a group which is now trying to raise $1000 to send Jeanne to Japan. So far $800 has been raised. The Japanese Government has donated $200, plus all expenses in Japan while she is there, the Lowell Sun has donated $200, H P Hood & Sons, milk company, has donated $500.

Jeanne was apprised last year, while she was studying in Sweden that she might be invited to Japan this winter, by the coach of the Japanese National Skating Club, who was also studying in Sweden, and who met Jeanne there.

Now that Jeanne has broken the Three Minute Mile, and further made a Clean Sweep of both the National Women's Speed Skating contest, and the US Olympic Women's tryouts, the offer has been confirmed.

There was no definite promise, but rather more of a hope, in the letter from the President to Debbie. The letter read:

My dear Miss Ashworth:

The president has asked me to thank you for your letter and your interest in writing about your sister.

By his direction your communication is being brought to the attention of the appropriate officials of the Department of State.

Sincerely,
Ralph A Dungan
Special Assistant to the President

Jeanne has also received a hand engrossed resolution from the Senate of Massachusetts, a citation brought about by the efforts of Senator James J Long of Woburn.

The citation was received by her parents Wednesday, and read:

In the year one thousand nine hundred and sixty, resolutions congratulating Jeanne Ashworth of Wilmington, on winning the National Senior Women's Speed Skating Championship.

Whereas, Jeanne Ashworth of Wilmington, on January twenty seventh nineteen hundred and sixty three won the Senior Women's Championship in the sixty fourth annual National Outdoor Speed Skating Meet, held at St. Paul, Minnesota; and,

Whereas, Miss Ashworth, a physical education teacher, in running up the maximum of 25 points, to defeat the defending women's champion, slashed more than eleven seconds off the Women's One Mile Record, with a brilliant clocking of two minutes fifty three point three seconds, being the first time any American woman has ever completed the mile event in less than three minutes;

Now, therefore be it Resolved that the Massachusetts Senate on behalf of all the citizens of the Commonwealth, extends to Jeanne Ashworth of Wilmington, its heartiest congratulations and best wishes for continued success on the occasion of her winning the National Senior Women's Speed Skating Championship; and be it further

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted forthwith by the Clerk of the Senate to Jeanne Ashworth of Wilmington.

Senate adopted January thirty one thousand nine hundred and sixty three.

John E. Powers
President of the Senate
Thomas A. Chadwick

NO 'FREE CASH' FOR TOWN MEETING

Taxpayers of Wilmington, when they go to the annual Town Meeting this year, will have the dubious pleasure of entering with the knowledge that the tax rate will be over $2 higher, and probably $2.50, than at the same point in last year's Town Meeting.

The State Department of Accounts has returned to the town its Balance Sheet for the year ending Dec. 31, 1962, and listed under the 'Free Cash' item is the figure zero. The cause? -There are several, none of which will be pleasant for the taxpayer.

Last year, for instance, an unusually large amount of the Free Cash for the 1962 Town Meeting was used, probably to create a favorable tax rate. Only $13,000 was left in Free Cash, when in other years the sum was somewhat higher.

Last year, too, the town had some emergency spending which has cut into the Free Cash. There were overdrafts of about $15,000 on Snow and Ice Removal, and about the same amount on Veteran's Benefits. In addition the town has not received its usual assistance from the State in Veteran's benefits - the money is slow in coming, nor has the town received the School Bus reimbursement from the state.

Tax collections are up, this year, more than ever before, but there are still some $400,000 in uncollected taxes.

From $100,000, more or less, in Surplus Revenue, subtract the uncollected taxes, subtract the money spent under emergency programs, subtract the money not received for Veterans Benefits and School Bus transportation. The remainder roughly, is the Free Cash. And in Wilmington, this year, that remainder is a deficit figure.

FINANCE COMMITTEE SETS FEB 18 FOR PUBLIC HEARING

The annual hearing of the Wilmington Finance Committee on the Warrant for the Annual Town Meeting has been set for 8 pm February 18th., in room 102 of the High School.

This is the only time during the season before the annual Town Meeting in which the Finance Committee has a public discussion of the town's finances, prior to that of the Town Meeting.

Sponsors of articles, and interest ed officials and persons are not compelled to attend this hearing, but a lack of interest is taken by the Finance Committee to mean just exactly that.

WILDWOOD PARENTS CLUB

The Wildwood Parents Club, last Saturday afternoon found itself in the position of being host to too many children, when it had movies for children in the Herbert C Barrows Auditorium.

Children had to be turned away because of the fire laws preventing overcrowding.

In a public statement the Club said that it was happy at the response, and apologized because not all the children could be admitted.

B&M OFFICIAL AT ROTARY MEETING: Oscar Benson of Reading, Asst Maintenance Engineer of the Boston & Maine Railroad told the Wilmington Rotary Club yesterday how the President's transportation proposals may help the railroads.

With Mr Benson is Judy MacDonald of Nickerson Avenue, Student of the Week, and Prexy Harold Foley and Governor Bill Stevens.

HELICOPTER PROPOSAL HEARD BY SELECTMEN

A proposal to operate a Helicopter service from Avco to the Boston Airport was made, Monday night, to the Selectmen by Allan D Russell, President of the Massachusetts Helicopter Airlines, with headquarters at Hanscom Field in Bedford.

The service is now in existence between Bedford and Boston the Selectmen were told. In order to be extended to Wilmington several permits would be needed, starting with the approval of the local selectmen.

The price for a trip would be in the neighborhood of $10. The service makes a practice of following superhighways, in order to have a place for emergency landings, if needed.

Russell estimated that the service could be operating in a few months

HOW TO GET THE EGG WITHOUT BITING THE GOOSE

Our Board of Selectmen, when no one is around, is engaged, part time, in a conversation about the possibility of rezoning along Route 93. They had hoped to have an article ready for the Annual Town meeting, but they now recognize that such an article will have to wait until some Special Town Meeting later.

Although they have said nothing publicly they are worrying about the predicted (as of some years ago) building boom in Wilmington in 1964.

One large firm is in the planning stage, and several others may be presumed to be in the looking stage.

An ideal site for a housing development, some people would believe, is the large ex-sand pit, just north of the Ipswich River and between Route 93 and Woburn Street. If this or any similarly large area were to be developed for housing the result would not be a catastrophe, but would mean a sizeable jump in the tax rate.

So - think some Selectmen, Rezone the land to Industrial - and then there can't be houses built there. Besides, a nice industry might come along and want to buy it. Which might sound good, but isn't so, of necessity.

In the first place Wilmington now has more Industrial land than has the City of Pittsburgh, which is saying a lot.

In the second place there could be times when an industry might move in which could be undesirable. Perhaps Wilmington's Zoning Laws would prevent this, for the laws are stringent - but then again perhaps not.

It is far better to rezone a property after a firm has made its bid - not before and leave the property open to Tom, Dick, and Harry, not to mention Zilch and Milch.

Avco is on land that was rezoned after our present Zoning Law was adopted. The town wisely saw the value of the rezoning and went along with the then Town Manager and Planning Board.

In North Wilmington, only a few years ago large tracts of land were rezoned at the request of a later Town manager, who was acting

FRENCH PEEVE

This fact deGaulle cannot recall:

When Europe lay, a Nazi thrall,

The British fought, back to the wall.

Today, the thanks, a French black ball, in a mysterious manner about industry.

Two weeks later the planning Board, re-volting at the hasty work, vowed "Never Again".

That rezoning in North Wilmington spoiled one of the few spots in town where some of the really fine type of homes could be built.

It is to be doubted if ever there will be any such homes there now - but there was a chance, and that was thrown away. Someone was too anxious to get the Golden Egg.

It does not appear that the answer to every problem is rezoning.

It is more evident that the answer can be found in patient and careful study, and that the Planning Board is the one to make that study.

The Planning Board can only recommend. It has in the past made recommendations which the Selectmen have ignored, as for instance pedways to schools.

The Selectmen are a highly political group which will re-act to the slightest political pressure, even with the best of intentions.

The Planning Board is absolutely non-political. It's recommendations in the past have been good.

Perhaps they are not going to be right all the time in the future, but the past is a pretty good indication that the planning Board knows that one doesn't necessarily bite the goose, to induce it to lay Golden Eggs.

ONE OF THE SAD FACTS OF LIFE

Wavie Drew, Selectman and Citizen Extraordinary has come in for some undeserved criticism from an irresponsible source because she chooses not to make any public statement as to why she did not vote in favor of the past Town Manager.

She did tell the gentleman personally of what she was going to do, and it is to be presumed that she also told him why.

The lady has a very good reason for keeping her mouth shut, not only on this subject, but others as well.

That reason is the gentleman who is the chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

TOWN NOTES

The Skating Carnival

The Skating Carnival of last Saturday, down at the Skating Club, was typical in many ways of those which have been held in previous years, in that most of the real big stars of the Wilmington Skating Club were out of town and out of state, trying for bigger and better events - in this case the Olympic tryouts, in Minnesota.

Back in the days when the Silver Skates Derby in Boston meant some thing special to Wilmington residents, the Carnival was a tune-up for the event, where the skaters in the various classes tried to determine how their adversaries looked. Were they in shape this year? Did anyone have a new pair of skates this year?

Very often, the winner of a first time trophy at the Carnival, which is and was for all Wilmington children, was inspired to join the Wilmington Skating Club, buy himself a pair of real speed skates, and perhaps a Skating Club uniform.

Of course the Silver Skates are no more, but the fun of being able to compete against friends and neighbors still exists, and the competition is justification enough for the efforts of the Wilmington Recreation Commission to stage this annual event.

Display

While the Boy Scouts are not having dinners, etc., during Boy Scout week, there will be one window display.

The Wilmington Center Pharmacy has loaned one of its windows to the boys of Troop 56, who are going to have a display of the nature of scouting - and if possible, not break any glass while doing so.

Jeanne on T.V.

The grandest show on earth was the TV Show, last Saturday at 5pm which showed Jeanne skating in the Olympic tryouts. Her 'Wilmington' could be plainly, oh so plainly seen, and the announcer kept on talking about Wilmington, Wilmington and Wilmington.

It was a far better plug for our town, in the humble opinion of this writer than were the gray truths (and lies) told by a Selectman at Miami Beach, a year ago, when the town spent the taxpayer's money in an effort to kid the world into believing that Wilmington was Oh So Wonderful.

The only White Truth worthy of comment in that episode was the use of Jeanne's name.

But there are many comments to be made of Jeanne's appearance on the TV screen.

Which might possibly be regretted, although the lady, in the past, has shown infinite wisdom.

THINGS THAT GO BUMP IN THE NIGHT

Now that the Wilmington Throwaway has taken to calling itself Wilmington's Finest Newspaper perhaps it might be a fair question to ask of the other towns of which it proclaims itself.

It says that it "covers" North Reading. Why aren't its readers being told of the obscene movie scandal which is rocking that town?

And, incidentally, what ever happened to the rumor of a year ago which alleged that an obscene movie had been shown in Wilmington Town Hall?

LARGEST ANNUAL CONGREGATIONAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Congregational Church (United Church of Christ), held last Thursday evening, was the best attended in the recent history of the church. Held in the vestry, it began at 8 pm, and in many ways was the most interesting and beneficial meeting.

Thirty three new people were elected this year, into the fifty-five elective offices of the church which were open this year, in keeping with suggestions by the pastor. The thirty new church members received into membership since the last annual meeting were introduced, and a few moments of silence was observed in loving remembrance of the members deceased since the last annual meeting.

The 1963 budget, proposed by the Finance Committee, was adopted after a thorough discussion, and reports on the work of the year past was presented, in writing, by the church departments, officers and committees.

The pastor's traditional supplementary oral report was given. Among matters he highlighted were:

mong the matters he highlighted were the following:

He sighted a number of major signs of health in the ongoing life of the congregation, itemized as:

1 Asking our selves repeatedly, what are we called as a part of God's people, the Church, to be? What are we doing about it? We have been slowly, and sometimes painfully, discovering some answers to these vital questions. 'We have been more concerned' he stated, 'to challenge our own unexamined churchly conformities than to recruit multitudes into a comfortable status quo suburban religiosity'.

We have been studying seriously our corporate worship patterns and practices, noting that they are 'not just the purposeless stringing together of miscellaneous sounds and gestures as preliminaries to a sermon, according to a given minister's idiosyncracies. Each act of the liturgy expresses a part of the Gospel and relates to all other parts according to the inner logic of a living organism - in this case the 'organism' of Christ's redeeming life.'

Our church was the first church in the Massachusetts conference to have our teacher's and Christian education committee studying the basic textbook on the complete background (theological and methods) of the new United Church of Christ curriculum to appear in the fall in the fall of 1963.

Our Koinonia (New Testament kind of fellowship and participation 'in Christ') groups, small groups of adults meeting in one another's homes weekly for prayer, study, discussion and fellowship, are one of the most creative - and Christianly productive - things we are doing as a church. Here is adult Christian education at a depth level.

The pastor concluded his report by suggesting that 'we do not become a truer church merely by adding multifarious activities to our crowded church calendar. 'It remains true that the Church's primary function in human society is to live out the meaning of being the Body of Christ, of being Koinonia, of preaching and teaching the Word of God, and rightly administering the Sacraments'. If we do this, we will - as did the Christian community in the New Testament - experience pains and hostilities, within the church and within the world. But what would Jesus' own annual report have sounded like if He had written it on the eve of Good Friday? We will also experience a kind of continual rebirth, and a growing peace not provided by 'the world'.

VETERANS WANT
SIX MONTH DELAY

The Wilmington Housing Authority, in a special meeting held in the Community Center on Deming Way Monday night, was told that the Veterans of Wilmington should be given at least six months, if not more, before any attempt is made to sell the Veterans Housing Project, on Wildwood Street.

Representatives of about six families who live in the project were present, and four of them spoke, in favor of delay, saying that they could not raise the $1200 estimated to be the down payment.

Veteran's Agent Arthur B Harper was spokesman for what he said were 10 families, a list of which he gave to Housing Authority Chairman Eddie Forrest.

Harper declared himself against the selling of the Veteran's houses as long as a need exists.

He was at first very reluctant to divulge the names on his petition, but finally did so, handing the petition over to the Housing Authority when it was explained that it would be the State Housing Authority that would make the decision, and that documentation was needed.

Harper explained his position as being 'strictly a social worker, to see that the Veterans get what is coming to them'.

Mr Harper at times started to wander from the subject of the meeting, such as wishing to discuss repairs to the houses in the Veteran's project, but was kept from this by objections from WHA members Donahue and Curtis.

Chairman Forrest told Harper that the Veterans have nothing to worry about, that the decision is made in the State Housing Board, and that as long as it seems that there are legitimate financial problems the State housing Board probably would not try to sell the houses. In any event the tenant veterans would get the preference. On the other hand, he told Harper, if there are only one or two houses that cannot be sold, because of the tenant 'then it is your problem'.

The houses, he said, were good bargains at the price set by the State Housing Board, a statement with which Harper would not agree, pointing out that the houses were eleven years old.

LETTERS

27 Concord Street
Feb 4, 1963

Dear Larz:

Once upon a time Lubbers Brook flowed through Wilmington to the Ipswich River. Near Concord St. another little stream joined it from the other side of the B&M tracks. This particular little brook drained land all the way from the High School, passed under Federal St. and joined Lubbers Brook at the aforementioned spot.

Lubbers Brook was once a source of fishing fun for many of Wilmington's children. In the spring the State stocked its waters with trout. It was a home for many feathered, finny and furry creatures.

But then it happened, the land the little brook ran through was rezoned for industry, not because Wilmington had run out of industrial land, but because an industrial developer wanted to fill it full of factories.

The land was filled in and factories were built. Along with the factories came an unbargained bonus, Human and Industrial Waste. It drained under the B&M Tracks into Lubbers Brook, the brook became polluted, became unfit for aquatic life, and became a health menace. It drained into the Ipswich River and then past the Town of Reading well fields supplying drinking water for that town.

The ensuing lawsuit took care of all tax advantages we were enjoying from our new industry. If we had put industry on land set aside for that purpose we would not have a lawsuit and polluted rivers.

Of course none of the above will happen if we the voters of Wilmington take a good close look at what is being offered us. Even more so, it cannot happen if we appear at Town Meeting and make sure of it by defeating the article which could permit such rezoning.

I hope the day does not come when I will type the first five paragraphs above in the same tense and find it a nightmare come true.

Very truly yours,
William D MacKinnon Jr

Dear Larz:

Rules are made only to be broken, or in other words 'Spot Zoning' through a weak Appeal Board. No need to repeat the wonderfully detailed comments made by Mr William D MacKinnon Jr and Mr Ralph Zwicker Jr in last week's edition of the Town Crier.

I wish to point out that Mr Repe LaRivee, candidate for Selectman this year has long opposed Spot Zoning, and if elected will fight it right down the line on order to protect our real estate valuation.

HEALTH BOARD ASKS TM
'WHEN DO WE MOVE?'

The Board of Health, Monday night asked Temp. Town Manager Harold Melzar for a statement as to when it could be expected to move into the Public Library.

The Health Department, Melzar was told, is cramped for the lack of space, which prevents the sanitarian from having a needed secretarial service.

As a result the periodic examinations of Wilmington restaurants and food suppliers has 'fallen by the wayside' and reports on such things as water examinations are being made orally, over the telephone, instead of in writing.

The need was for desk room for a secretary, and jokingly Mr Melzar was asked if there were room enough on his knee for such a person.

Melzar told the Health Board that the Public Library is to move into the old St Thomas Church after the sale has been concluded, and the Health Board would have to wait until then for more space.

The sale of St Thomas old church is being delayed because of a Land Court decision, pending. Melzar told the Health Board that such decisions take many months.

Ralph Kinnear, Kilby Street, 23 years old, was sentenced to two months in the Essex County House of Correction, last Thursday, after having been found guilty of a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of two persons, in a head-on collision, last May.

Kinnear was sentenced to 2 1/2 years on the manslaughter charge, and placed on probation. The two month sentence was imposed for driving to endanger.

One of the persons killed in the accident was Frederick Fiset, a Wilmington youth who was making his home in Malden at the time of the accident.

Dear Larz:

The Town Crier has on many occasions indicated that it was a problem to procure uncensored news from the Board of Selectmen.

The right of the citizens to know what his representatives are doing cannot be overlooked. Rene La Rivee recognizes this injustice. We need men like him to truly represent us and to keep us fully informed on town affairs.

Very truly yours

and they arrived late, so that Saturday many of the Football Heros mothers got the same idea at the same time, and went down to Weinbergs to buy grey trousers, to go with those blue jackets.

In several homes, we are told, the ladies were on their knees, or other wise occupied, with pins in their mouths, trying to fit cuffs to the new trousers of their sons, when Jeanne came on the TV.

It must have been something, and one of the ladies bet the Town Crier that she swallowed a dozen pins. Jeanne won every event, as she did in the Nationals, and in one, according to some of our readers, it was announced that she had beaten the record of last year by .8 of a second - the 1000 meter event. But the times recorded on that Minnesota lake are not to be casually compared with the times at Squaw Valley, four years ago, because of the difference in atmospheric pressure, i.e. the difference in altitude.

It is easier to skate any certain distance faster, at Squaw Valley than it is in Minnesota.

Jeanne, for instance, in the 500 meter distance, did it in 46.1 seconds at Squaw Valley, four years ago. In Minnesota it was 49.7 seconds, but she was the only woman to do the distance in less than 50 seconds.

Her 1000 meter time was 1 minute 41.2 seconds, and her 5000 meter time was 5 minutes, and 59.8 seconds. We don't know what her time was in the 1500 meter event, except that she won.

We also expect that some of our slide rule sharks will be figuring out how fast Jeanne was skating, about this time.

Kenny Bartholemew, 10 times the Senior Men's Champion in Speed Skting, (he is from Minnesota) said of Jeanne this week that she is the greatest woman in speed skating he has ever seen.

He has known and skated with some of the great women like Mattie Horn and Pat Gibson, who swept the ice eight years ago in the Nationals. Speaking of these ladies, Bart said: One could sprint, another could do distance, but only Jeanne can do them all. 'I have never seen anyone who can touch Jeanne'.

Another item of incidental intelligence:

In Wilmington, a couple of years ago, there was an attempt to get a town owned skating rink - and it fell by the wayside, due, we feel, to lethargy on the part of paid officials who could have helped.

In Minneapolis there is something like 52 municipally owned skating rinks.

Minnesota came in second, as far as Regional Scoring was concerned in the Nationals, and the rinks were a part of the answer. The Northeastern Skating Association came in third, winning something like 49 points, of which Jeanne won 25, Jeff Williamson 10, Janet Tighe 2 and Nancy Weinberg 1.

Laura Marland

Since the Town Crier story of two weeks ago, there have been several of our readers who have stoped us on the street to tell their favorite story of the lady.

Ernie Crispo, for instance - he of the School Committee, recalled that he was in the first class conducted by the lady, back in 1919. He admired her just as much then as he does today, he said, and recalled that Miss Marland had him seated in the front row, which for our money, means that she believed him to be a particularly bright student.

Several of our readers remembered that it was a Master of Arts Degree that the lady was awarded, back in 1921. They were all proud of her, and remarked that, for their money, a Master of Arts degree was really something.

House Moving

The former Palmer residence, on West Street, where Technical Instruments is now located, is due to be moved any day now to a new location, on Woburn Street.

John Lucci, who has bought a part of the Downs Farm, (formerly the home of Carl Pettingill), is going to tear down the barn and the shed. The Palmer home will be located on the southern part of the lot, next to where Edie Symmes used to live, now the home of Alton Durost.

No particular troubles are anticipated, except that we heard thru the grapevine that Wavie Drew is worrying about the big elm tree in front of her home, on West St. She fears it may have to be cut down in order to get the house by.

CHARLES H BLACK
CANDIDATE FOR RE-

Charles H. Black, a candidate for re-election to the Board of Selectmen, has had a record of many years service to the town in many capacities.

He was first elected to the Board of Selectmen in 1935, but before that had served the town in several capacities, as a call fireman, in the 1928 Building By Law Committee, on the Board of Appeals, and, among other things, as Administrator of the CWA, ERA and WPA programs in Wilmington during the early years of the depression of the 1930's.

He was Chairman of the Welfare Board, Chairman of the Buzzell School Building Committee, and served on the High School Building Committee.

First elected a Selectman in 1935, he did not serve in 1950, but was a part of the board again when the Town Manager plan went into effect in 1951, and has served ever since.

ROY CARLSON IS STUDYING AT WENTWORTH.

Among the latest pupils accepted for admission to Wentworth Institute, in Boston, is Robert Roy Carlson, of 13 Main Street.

This is the time of the year when Towns think seriously about school problems. Here in Wilmington our schools, fortunate in that they have a good superintendent, nevertheless do have problems which are almost insurmountable in size and scope.

In round figures, one quarter of our population is school age children. Right off the bat, our schools represent a tremendous investment in our future leaders as well as a terrifically high tax burden on the homeowners of the Town. Basically, the problem boils down to: What can we do for the money we have?

We in Wilmington have provided good schools, teachers, supplies and other necessary things, plus a few innovations. We have yet to provide outstanding means for our pupils' education. To do so is a real problem - one that must not become the subject of shallow thinking and arguments, but rather the subject of cool and analytical thinking, by people who know how to recognize problems.

You and I know that a lawyer's whole training is to tackle a problem and think the issue through. Day and night, 24 hours a day, a mother is confronted with problems and crises concerning her children.

Maybe I am wrong, but it seems to me that a mother, who is also a lawyer, and who has watched and guided a child through twelve grades of school and into college, is just the type of person we need.

HIGH SCHOOL ENCOURAGES SCHOLARSHIP

A year ago, for the first time in Wilmington High School, incoming members of the National Honor Society were inducted with appropriate ceremonies.

Last Monday the ceremonies were again conducted, with more emphasis, and the new members and their parents were the guests, at a dinner, that same evening, in the Wilmington High School.

Sixteen Seniors, the top 10% of their class, were inducted into the Society Monday, with the ceremonies being conducted by President John Bovitz, outstanding scholar of the Senior Class, and four other top scholars, including Dickie Allard, Lucy Keough, Ruth O'Donnell, and Marilyn Mann.

In addition ten juniors were inducted, ten top scholars of whom the faculty believes that they will maintain their scholarship in their last year in High School.

Each of the five inducting officers gave a short and well prepared speech on the various aspects of the National Honor Society, and each of the inductees lit a candle, signifying scholarship, from a first candle which had been lit by the president.

The dinner, that same evening, was not quite as dignified, but to add emphasis to the attainments and honor of scholarship, Miss Laura Marland, respected Head of the English Department of Wilmington High School was asked to personally pin on each of the students in the society their own National Honor Society pin.

Present, in addition to the parents, and members of the Faculty were the members of the School Committee, with their wives, and the Superintendent of Schools, with Mrs. Shea.

THE LIGHTING OF THE CANDLE OF KNOWLEDGE: Geraldine Perella, High School Junior, was the last of the students inducted into the High School National Honor Society to light her candle, Monday afternoon.

PINS FROM MISS MARLAND: John Bovitz, High School Senior, and president of the High School National Honor Society, receives his pin from Miss Laura Marland, while High School Principal Bernard McMahon watches closely.
